Deployment Checklist Template

What is Deployment Checklist Template?

A Deployment Checklist Template is a structured tool used by Enterprise Solution Architects or Architecture Project Managers to ensure that all critical aspects of a system or application deployment are addressed systematically. It serves as a best practice framework, often aligning with methodologies like TOGAF (The Open Group Architecture Framework), to guide teams through the various stages of deployment while minimizing risks and ensuring compliance with architectural standards. This checklist typically includes items such as validation of technical requirements, user acceptance testing, resource allocation, change management processes, security protocols, and post-deployment monitoring, thereby facilitating a smooth transition from development to production and enhancing overall project governance and accountability.
